

Seminar Policies (For Students)

These are David's Seminar Policies for students. Please read them carefully – they are for everyone's benefit, so that we may have a successful seminar! Thank you!

For seminar students:

- 1. Students must be at least 16 years of age. They must also have the necessary level of experience for the appropriate seminar (“Rhythm Guitar” – 6 months, “The Capo” – 2 years, “Breaking the Mold” – 5 years). Exceptions to this can be made, but only with prior approval from David. This is for the student's benefit, as well as the other students in the seminar. Please contact David by via email at david@davidharsh.com.
- 2. Only students who have registered for the seminar may attend. This means that spouses, significant others, children, parents, relatives, and friends must wait outside the seminar room, or drop off the students and come back at the conclusion of the seminar.
- 3. Guitar seminar tuitions paid in advance are non-refundable, unless the seminar is cancelled.
- 4. Students who pre-register for guitar seminars are encouraged to bring the following materials to the seminar: guitar, capo, tuner, pencil. Optional materials include: music stand, tuning fork, extra strings. Those attending “The Peripheral Worship Leader” or “Writing Songs for Thirsty Souls” may bring their musical instrument and a notebook for taking notes.
- 5. The seminar may not be recorded in any audio or video fashion, and the packets students receive for the seminar may not be photocopied for students who have not attended the seminar. They are copyrighted material; please respect the author's work.
- 6. Guitar seminar tuitions are non-transferable. This means that if Jane Doe has paid her tuition and is not able to attend the seminar, John Doe cannot attend in her place.

Thank you! Looking forward to a great seminar!
